Conservation Corp Volunteers Visit Advocates

This past March, twenty college-aged Chesapeake Conservation Corp (CCC) Volunteers spent a day at eight of Advocates' properties to weatherize the houses as part of a CCC Energy Efficiency Training. Hosted by Frederick County's Office of Sustainability and Environmental Resources (OSER), the youth volunteers spent some classroom time to learn about household energy costs and potential savings that can be achieved with simple steps. Under the guidance of Mike Uecker from Atlas Energy Home Solutions and Dan Herbert, Advocates' Property Manager, the team of youths sealed windows and doors, cleaned air ducts, and installed energy efficient lighting among other activities.

To follow up, Advocates has issued a challenge to the participants in our programs to put into action the practices taught by Sabrina Harder, OSER's Green Homes Program Coordinator, and reduce their energy bills by 10 percent over the next year. While Advocates pays all utility bills for our properties, participants who succeed in lowering our electric bills by 10 percent or more will only pay half their housing fee for one month. (Housing fees are based on 30 percent of participants' income up to a maximum of $300.)

If you are a member of a group and are interested in saving home energy costs, we suggest you contact Sabrina Harder regarding Frederick County's Green Homes Challenge (www.FrederickCountyMD.gov/GreenHomes). She will work with you to host a Power Saver Workshop or Powerware Party for your group where participants will learn how to reduce energy bills and find out about financial incentives and other energy conservation resources. You can contact Sabrina at 301-600-7414 or sharder@FrederickCountyMD.gov.

Good Grades Produce Positive Outcomes

The picture to the right is of a child whose family participates in Advocates' programs. He's a happy boy, because he was one of the four honors students recognized at our March 2012 program. Children in Advocates' Good Grades Program are awarded certificates and gift cards for scholastic achievement and perfect attendance. Our thanks to Zoe Carson, administrator of Frederick County Public Schools' Homeless Education Program, for providing refreshments for the event and keeping our case managers informed throughout the school year about the progress of each school-aged child in our programs.

MISSION STATEMENT

Advocates for Homeless Families' mission is to empower motivated families to overcome homelessness. Families achieve success through a structured two-year program of education, housing, and support services.

Planned Giving Corner

Advocates for Homeless Families works in partnership with many organizations within Frederick County. One of the most significant of these partnerships is with The Community Foundation of Frederick County. The Community Foundation of Frederick County has extensive expertise and the experience in managing donor funds to the benefit of the greater community and it also has extensive experience in helping potential donors create legacies that will continue to give back for many generations.

Remembering Advocates for Homeless Families with a legacy gift in your estate provisions or with another type of planned gift such as a life insurance policy, a retirement account distribution, or a charitable gift annuity is a wonderful way to achieve your charitable goals and save substantial amounts on taxes.

If you would like to discuss the array of planned giving options that are available to you, please contact Ken Allread, Advocates' Executive Director, at 301-662-2003 or Betsy Day, President of The Community Foundation of Frederick County, at 301-695-7660. More information about planned giving options will be forthcoming in future editions of this newsletter.
